

CARD PROCESSING VERIFICATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of verifying the processing of a card 5 includes a step of processing a card. Next, a check is made to verify whether the card was completely or incompletely processed. Finally, verification results are generated that indicate whether the card was completely or incompletely processed. Another aspect 10 of the present invention is directed to an identification card manufacturing system that is configured to carry out the method described above.
